Girbau Industrial welcomes Michael Lynch as senior industrial technician

Oshkosh, Wis.—Michael Lynch, of Richland Hills, Texas, recently joined Girbau Industrial (GI) as senior industrial technician. In his new role, Lynch trains customers and technical service personnel on the maintenance, operation, troubleshooting and repair of GI, OnePress and Continental Girbau Inc. (Continental) branded laundry systems and products.

Lynch, who holds 16 years of electro-mechanical experience, including nine years directly related to industrial laundry systems, most recently served as a field service technician for a major industrial laundry system manufacturer. He also holds experience as an avionics electrician and supervisor for the U.S. Marine Corps.

"We are excited about welcoming Michael Lynch to our technical services team," said Matt Schlimgen, technical services manager. "Mike's advanced electronics systems knowledge and industrial laundry background make him the perfect point person for our customers in the field. He'll be working on location to train and assist customers on every facet of GI and Continental technical repair and troubleshooting. We are pleased to have him as part of our team."

"I like the idea of joining an emerging industrial division with a family oriented atmosphere," said Lynch. "I'm looking forward to helping grow the Girbau Industrial brand within the industrial market."

Lynch holds an associate's degree in general studies from Columbia College in Ft. Worth, Texas.
